PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS. SENATORS TALK ABOUT RETALIATION

AGAINST CANADA. Mr. Edmunds Intimates that the Governmen Moves Too Slow, and Should Send a Cruise to Protect Our Fishermon—The Oleomar garine Bill at Last Passed in the Mouse.

WASHINGTON, June 3 .- In the Senate to day Mr. Dawes presented a petition from the City Council of Gloucester, Mass., which was appropriately referred, praying for retaliation on the Canadian Government for the seizure of American fishing vessels. Mr. Dawes said that it seemed to many persons that there was some dilatoriness on the part of those clothed with the duty of protecting our commerce. He inquired whether the Committee on Foreign Belations could give some assurance that might go to the public that measures would be taken which would protect our citizens in their rights.

Mr. Edmunds (Rep., Vt.) said the committee had no power to protect American commerce or American citizens. That belonged to the Excentive Department of the Government, and was part of its duty under the laws of the United States and the laws of nations. In the absence of definite information we must presums that the Executive Department was doing everything it could to protect citizens of the United States whose vessels had been selzed or unkindly dealt with by the Dominion of Canada. Of course it might have happened that some of these vessels—it might possibly have happened that all of them—had been guilty of a violation of existing laws of the Dominion of Canada. He hoped it would turn out that the vessels were innocent of any violation of law, and that setzuros would therefore be dismissed without even the semblance of probable cause. But that depended of course upon a judicial inquiry in the first instance. He did not mean to say that we would be bound to acquiesce in the results of a Canadian judicial inquiry if we thought those results unjust and improper. If any of the vessels should be condemned and the United States were of opinion that the condemnation was unjust we should not be bound by any principle of public justice to acquiesce in it. If we had any spirit left, as he thought we had, though for some reason we had not been sery successful in getting a navy or in arming our sea coast, yet in some way the rights of citizens of the United States would be vindicated if they had been violated. The President, if he had signed the recent act of Congress on this subject, now had the power to retailate for any injustice done our vessels in Canada or elsewhere. If that act had become a law, and if our British brethreo were straining a point to force us into a convention of reciprocity or "free fish," or anything else, it was now within the power of the President to take such measures as would tend to correct the abuse. Mr. Dawes said that it could not have escaped the observation of the committee that armed cruisers of the Canadian Government were about the waters on the borders of the "three mile limit" in search of American vessels, in order that they might under some pretence or other seize them. The entire absence of any armed vessel of the United States in those waters to protect our fishermon in the exercise. Mr. Edmunds in reply said that no legislation was necessary, unless it might be by appropriathat some of these vessels-it might possibly have happened that all of them-had been in the premises,

Mr. Edmunds in reply said that no legislation or lawful commerce ded him to inquire whether that absence was from any lack of proper power in the premises.

Mr. Edmunds in reply said that no legislation was necessary, unless it might be by appropriation of meney, and hardly that, to enable the President, who is Commander-in-Chief of our armies, to send out any vessel of the United States if we happened to have one that could swim. He (Mr. Edmunds) believed we had one that could swim. He (Mr. Edmunds) believed we had one that could swim.—one that had been trying for several months to swim, and had succeeded every time in swimming, but had not yet, he believed, succeeded in getting into the service of the United States. He presumed it would not be considered discourteous to express the hope that a ship of the United States Government would in due time appear in the northern seas, at a proper and respectful distance from the shores of her Majesty's dominion, to give some little encouragement to American citizens engaged in lawful pursuits.

Mr. Hale (lep., Me.) said that no question had been before the State Department for some time that was more grave and of more moment than this question. Congress had aiready acted, and had put into the hands of the President the power of fit and judicious retaliation, which must be exercised as an administrative and not as a legislative power. The people he (Mr. Hale) represented and the people of the United States generally were looking with anxiety to see the Administration come up to what had been the Intention of Congress.

The bill providing for the taxation of railroad grant lands was taken up. Mr. Hoar, not wishing to embarrass the bill, withdrew his amendment providing that not more than 640 acres soid under this bill shall be purchased by any one person, or shall hereafter be acquired or owned or held in trust by any one person. The bill was then passed.

Mr. Van Wyck (Bep. Neb.) then moved the Senate bill as an amendment in the nature of a substitute to the House bill. Agreed to, and the Senate bill as an amendme

Not Cruenders for Moral Reform.

HARRISBURG, June 3.-The International Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations to-day adopted the following by a standing vote, a large number voting against it:

Resolved. That while we recognize the great necessity there is for the perfistent effort to primote perfonal purity among young men, we deem it unwise and contrary to the well-established principles formulated for the guidance of our associations by the International Conventions, for the associations, as such, to adopt the methodtions for the associations, and similar societies, and that while we sympathize with all efforts for the improvement of the moral condition of men, we are still of the opinion that it is unadvisable for the associations to engage in any organized efforts for moral reform.

Washington, June 3.-The circular of Land Commissioner Sparks, issued yesterday, directing Regis-ters and Receivers of Land Offices not to receive filings or new applications for entry of the public lands under the Freeupilent Timber Culture, and Desert Land laws until the let of August next, was the subject of a con-suitation held to-day by Nordary Lands with his as-sistants. It was decided that the circular must be re-called.

The Work of Congress.

Washington, June 3.—During the present session there have been introduced in the liquide of Representatives 9.125 bills and 178 joint resolutions or sepresentatives 9.250 bills and 179 joint resolutions, or a total of 9.353. The bills that have passed the House number 932 including 741 private and 101 public measures and of these bills 385 private and 72 public bills have passed the Seunts. The Senate has passed and sent to the House 480 bills, of which the House has passed and passed 36 public and 87 private bills.

OTTAWA, Ont. June 3,—While the vote appro-priating $25,000 for military works and defences in Brit-ish Columbia was being taken yesterday, Sir Adolphe Caron explained that the object of the measure was to provide extensive explainers and other military de-fences which would cost about $100,000.

WHAT KILLED STANGER? Dr. Goois's Charge Against Dr. Hasslock and What is Said of It.

Dr. Wolfgang Goetz, who is surgeon of the Eleventh Regiment, has called the attention of the District Attorney to the circumstances at-tending the death of Charles Stanger, a barseeper at 74 East Third street, who died on Saturday last. Dr. Goetz says that before his death Stanger took chloral and morphine prescribed by Dr. William Hassloch of 932 Second avenue, and he believes the circumstances of the man's death warrant an investigation.

To a Sun reporter Dr. Goetz said yesterday that on Friday a message was sent calling him to attend Stanger. Dr. Goetz was out of town and Dr. Hassloch was summoned. After re-turning to the city on Friday night Dr. Goetz and Dr. Hassloch was summoned. After returning to the city on Friday night Dr. Goetz visited Stanger, and found him, he says, asleep and breathing heavily under the influence of chloral and morphine. On Saturday he heard that Stanger was dead, and he says that the death of the patient did not surprise him, as he believed on Friday night that he was dying. On Monday afternoon Osear Fritz, Secretary of the Benevolent Order of Buffalces, of which Stanger had been a member, told Dr. Goetz, according to Dr. Goetz's statement, that he believed Stanger had been poisoned by overdoses of medicine, and Dr. Goetz and Mr. Fritz went to Stanger's house. Mrs. Stanger refused to let them have the bottle which had contained the medicine, but they obtained the number of the prescription, and learned from Druggist Bishoff of First avenue and Second street, who prepared it, that it consisted of 2% drachms of chloral hydrate, 2% drachms of bromide of potassium 4 ounces of distilled water, and % ounce of giveerine—a tablespoonful to be taken avery hour. Dr. Goetz says he learned that the doses had been given to Stanger for four or five hours.

At the Coronera' office Dr. Goetz's charges against Dr. Haesloch were attributed to professional jealousy.

MRS. WILLIAMS'S MISFORTUNE.

Both of Her Legs Have Been Broken, but She Won't Tell Her Husband How. Handsome Mrs. Samuel Williams left her nome, 910 Bergen street, Brooklyn, on Satur day afternoon asying that ahe was woing out until Wednesday that her husband discovered that she was at the Brooklyn Hospital, and that both of her legs were broken. She was taken to the hospital in a coach on Saturday night by three men, one of whom represented himself as her father, and said she had been himself as her father, and said she had been accidentally run over in Fulton street. On Sunday the same man returned and paid $20 in advance for her board for two weeks. Mr. Williams informed Police Superintendent Campbell that his wife's father had not been at the hospital, and that he knew nothing of the accident to his daughter.

Mrs. Williams said she received her injuries by failing off a car, but there is no record on the nolice returns that any such accident occurred in Brooklyn on Saturday, It is supposed she received her injuries in a collision on the road, but when questioned yesterday at the hospital by a detective on this subject she positively refused to give any information. She told her husband, however, that there was no one to blame and no necessity for police in terference. She keeps a boarding-house and has two children.

Mr. Williams said last night: "My wife is of a lively disposition, and is accustomed to have her own way. I have no reason to think the a lively disposition, and is accustomed to have her own way. I have no reason to think the accident occurred otherwise than as she de-scribes it."

Recommendations of the Chamber of Com In yesterday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the special committee on the disinfection of rags presented a report, accompanied by the following resolutions:

by the following resolutions:

Resolved. That it is the opinion of this Chamber that invoices of rars accompanied by a certificate of the United States Consult that they were all gathered in a country which at that time was, and for at least six the country which at that time was, and for at least six the country which at that time was, and for at least six the country which at the consignois or infectious spidemic diseases, should not be required to be disinfected either before shipment or on arrival. In the absence of such certificate, rars coming from a port or country claimed to be free frc. such diseases should be disinfected on arrival.

That rags gathered in any port or country where such diseases then were, or had been prevalent at any time within six months immediately preceding the shipment thereof, and whether such rags are exported direct or via any other port or country, and whether lands of reexport, should be prohibited from the receiver of the country in the United States.

Mr. A. F. Higgins offered an amendment to the third resolution, requiring 'that quarantine regulations in relation to rags, or the disinfection thereof, should be uniform, and under the country of the United States.

The amendment prevailed, and the report of the committee was adopted.

Prodent Meni Side with their Wives. Mr. Justice Jackson O. Dykman presided yesterday in the Circuit Court, Brooklyn, during the trial of Mrs. Phebe E. Scott's suit for $5,000 damages for slander against Robert and Augusta Levy, who keep a dry goods store at 250 Myrtle avenue in that city. The ground of complaint was that Mrs. Levy had, as it was alleged, called Mrs. Scott an opprobrious name. The chief witness against the real defendant, Mrs. Lovy, was Mrs. Simons. When her husband corrogerated some of her testimony, defendant's counsel asked sig-nificantly.

The verdict was for Mr. and Mrs. Levy, the detendants.

Trinity's Fortieth Anniversary.

Special morning and afternoon services were held in Trinity Church yesterday to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of its consecration. The music was a special feature. Besides the united choirs of Trinity and St. Chrysostom's Chapel, the Damrosch orchestra of thirty-five pieces was stationed in the main organ lott. On either side of the chancel in front of the rail hydrangeas and palms were massed in effective group, and the front of the altar was also decorated with palms and flowers.

The services began at it o'clock with flite's processional hymn. "O, Zion, Blest City." which was surg as Inspecting the Handsome Massachusetts. Folks who travelled between this town and Providence last year thought the big and handsome Sound steamhlip Massachusetts of the Providence and Stonington line was just about as perfect as human skill and ingenuity could make her. Those who acskiil and ingenuity could make her. Those who accepted General Manager J. W. Miller's invitation to in apact her at her pier at the foot of Warren afreet, North River, yesterday, realized that they had underestimated the resources of the company. They saw a comparatively new steamer. The dining room, on the main deck has been fluely decorated in bright colors; every part of the ship has been repainted and refurnished, all the floors recarpeted, and new boilers have been put in. Nothing is lacking to make the passengers comfortable and happy this season. The Providence and Stohington boats leave Pier 29 daily at 5 P. M.

Mary Anderson on the Sen.

Mary Anderson, looking quite charming in a suit of maroon and rold, plucked rose leaves from a huge red bouquet on the deck of the Britannic late yes-terday afternoon, and blew them shoreward to a few personal friends, who stood on the pier. Many beautiful floral gins had been sent to her, but none of the well-known actors or actreases were on the wharf to say good by to her. It is well understood, however, that she does not care for that sort of thing. Miss Anderson is accompanied on her voyage by her brother. She goes to London, where her mother and slaters are, and later she will travel with her relations in France. She does not expect to act again for a year, and has no definite plans.

Runaways.

Twelve-year-old Willis Malone is missing from his home in Middletown, N. Y. Before his disap-pearance be told his playmates he was going to New York to be a newshop.

William Bisnaw, aged 12, ran away from his home in Canada on May 2, and is believed to be in this city.

The brother-lin-law of seventeen-year-old Maggie Kallenberger-refused her request for 50 cents on Monday, and she has been missing from her home at 501 West Porty-draf street since then.

No Truce for Mr. Loubat. The Union Club governors will continue their fight against Joseph F. Loubat. The recent judgment of the Supreme Court, declaring his expulsion illegal, has not yet been filed, but, as soon as it has been, the club governors will meet and decide whether to carry the case to the Court of Appeals, or to hold another meeting and again expel Mr. Loubat.

Mr. Strauskan Happier Out of Office. Mr. J. S. T. Stranahan has declined the Presidency of the Park Commission, Brooklyn, which was iendered to him by Mayor Whitney. He said: "I am To years of age, and I taink it it is time for me to give up all participation in public offices. Since I have been out I have been as happy as a bug in a rug."

The Best Family Indicted.

Charles, Mary, Maggie, and Christina Bost, who gave testimony in a Police Court in support of Maggie Beat's charge that School Commissioner R. J. H. Tannen was the father of her child, have been indicate for perjury by the Grand Jury. They pleaded not guilty yesterday in the General Bessions before Judge Cowing.

JUMPED OFF A STRAMER.

A Prisoner says He Swam Five Bours to Escape from a Detective. GALVESTON, June 3 .- The police last night rearrested Dick Lacouse, a fugitive from Gloucester, Mass., where he is wanted for an attempt to kill Maud Edson, his mistress. He attempt to kill Maud Edson, his mistress. He jumped his bail in Massachusetts and was arrested here by a detective. The datective and Lacouse started for New York on the steamship San Marcos. When eleven miles off Newport News, on the night of May S. Lacouse suddenly disappeared from the vessel. A thorough search failed to reveal the fugitive, and it was concluded that Lacouse had jumped overboard, and, as the night was dark and the sea rough, it was believed that he was drowned. It now appears that Lacouse swam ashore and made his way back to Texas, where he was joined by the Edson woman. Last night, to the astonishment of the police, she appeared and swore out a warrant charging that Lacouse had again attempted to kill her. She divulged his hiding place and the police were thus enabled to capture him. Lacouse says it took him five hours to reach the land after he jumped from the steamer.
